

Center for Hellenic Studies in Greece Harvard University

News

Harvard
Summer
Program in Greece

Glimpses of the Harvard Summer School Program

The study-abroad program welcomed 15 university students for daily seminars on migration and mobility in the Eastern Mediterranean. Students visited sites of interest in the Peloponnese and Mainland Greece between their classes and experienced aspects of Greek culture and life firsthand.

Catch glimpses of the program in this dedicated piece.

An initiative
by Harvard and Athens
Universities

Summer Course on Migration and Refugee Studies

The Harvard FXB Center for Health and Human Rights and the University of Athens Refugee and Migration Studies Hub brought together 23 Harvard graduates and international students in 3 locations of interest, Athens, Nafplio, and Lesvos, for a new interdisciplinary course on issues related to contemporary forced migration. Read a summary of the experience.

Digital
Library
of CHS
Greece

The Digital Library Program of CHS Greece begins

This educational program aims at introducing participants to the digital methods used by academic institutions such as Harvard and CHS to disseminate knowledge. The program is adjusted to the educational level and needs of the attending students, offering two parts; part I offers an introduction to research techniques in the Digital Library's databases, and Part II introduces young researchers to specialized techniques for research, assessment, and citation of digital resources.

All educational visits require prior coordination with CHS Greece.

For individuals wishing to use the Digital Library or the study room, CHS Greece, in compliance with all relevant safety measures, hosts up to ten (10) visitors daily.

Nafplio
Municipality
& Basil
Papantoniou
Foundation

Events dedicated to the Asia Minor Catastrophe

The Municipality of Nafplio, DOPPAT, and the Basil Papantoniou Foundation co-organize events to honor the memory of the 100 years since the Asia Minor Catastrophe. CHS Greece, in support of this initiative, hosted two events in September, a one-day conference on Asia Minor's history and culture and a talk about the activities of the "Greek Arts" Association and Elli Papadimitriou.

Argolis
Blood
Donation

Blood donation sessions at CHS Greece

The Argolis Region Blood Donors Association "Δεσμοί Αίματος" held six voluntary blood donation sessions in Nafplio in January, May, and September 2022, hosted at the Center.

Events

Oct
12

Mobility: Memory and Transformation in the Eastern Mediterranean

In this year's Worldwide Week at Harvard, CHS Greece, in cooperation with the FXB Center for Health and Human Rights, the Department of History of Art and Architecture, and Harvard Summer School, invites you to attend a discussion on "Mobility: Memory and Transformation in the Eastern Mediterranean."

The event will bring together faculty from 3 Harvard Programs in Greece and will take place on October 12, 5–6 pm Eastern Time (followed by reception) at 485 Broadway: lower lecture hall.

Submissions
until Jan 31, 2023

Playing Bacchae: A student competition

The Out of Chaos theater's Greek leg of the competition is addressed to undergraduate students from Greek universities' departments of theater studies and theater schools and students from Greek high schools, inviting them to experiment with Euripides's tragedy Bacchae.

#HarvardWorldwide

Vice Provost
for International Affairs
Oct 10-14

Worldwide Week at Harvard

Worldwide Week at Harvard 2022 welcomes individuals from Harvard Schools, research centers, departments, and student organizations and hosts presentations, discussions, and events showcasing the remarkable breadth of Harvard's global engagement.

Find the full schedule of in-person and virtual activities.

Center for African Studies
Weekly

African Studies Workshop

The African Studies Workshop at Harvard takes place every Monday during the fall semester. It features a new and exciting schedule of presenters, whose papers explore Africa's changing place in the world. You can join in person or virtually.

Mobility

MEMORY AND TRANSFORMATION IN THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN

JACQUELINE BHABHA

Professor, TH Chan School of Public Health,
Director of Research, FXB Center for Health
& Human Rights, Harvard University

EURYDICE GEORGATELI

Lecturer, History of Art + Architecture, Academic Coordinator of the Harvard Summer Program in Greece, Harvard University

NICOLAS PREVELAKIS

Associate Senior Lecturer, Committee on Degrees in Social Studies, Director of the CHS Teaching Internships Program in Greece, Harvard University

VASILEIA DIGIDIKI

Director of the Summer Program on Migration and Refugee Studies in Greece, FXB Center for Health & Human Rights, Harvard University

MODERATOR SANDRA NADDAFF

Dean, Harvard Summer School,
Senior Lecturer, Comparative Literature, Harvard University

WORLDWIDE WEEK
HARVARD UNIVERSITY

OCTOBER
12
2022
5:00 PM

VENUE

History of Art + Architecture
485 Broadway, lower lecture hall

RECEPTION

485 Broadway, 4th floor living room

Department of
History of Art + Architecture

Center for Hellenic
Studies in Greece
Harvard University

FXB Center
for Health & Human Rights
at Harvard University

Division of Continuing Education
HARVARD
Summer School

#HARVARDINGREECE